

5 Chrome Extensions you must use if you are a Web Developer

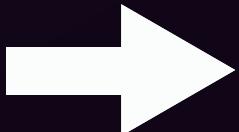

1

The screenshot shows the homepage of the GoFullPage website. At the top left is a camera icon. To its right is the title "GoFullPage - Full Page Screen Capture". Below the title is a sub-header "Screenshot yourpage.com". Underneath that are three links: "Install extension" (with a Chrome logo), "Developer Tools" (with a Firefox logo), and "View on GitHub" (with a GitHub logo). A navigation bar below these links includes "Overview", "Privacy protection", "Reviews", "Support", and "Features". A prominent blue button in the center of the page contains the text "One-click screen capture...".

GoFullPage

Capture a screenshot of your current page in entirety and reliably—without requesting any extra permissions!

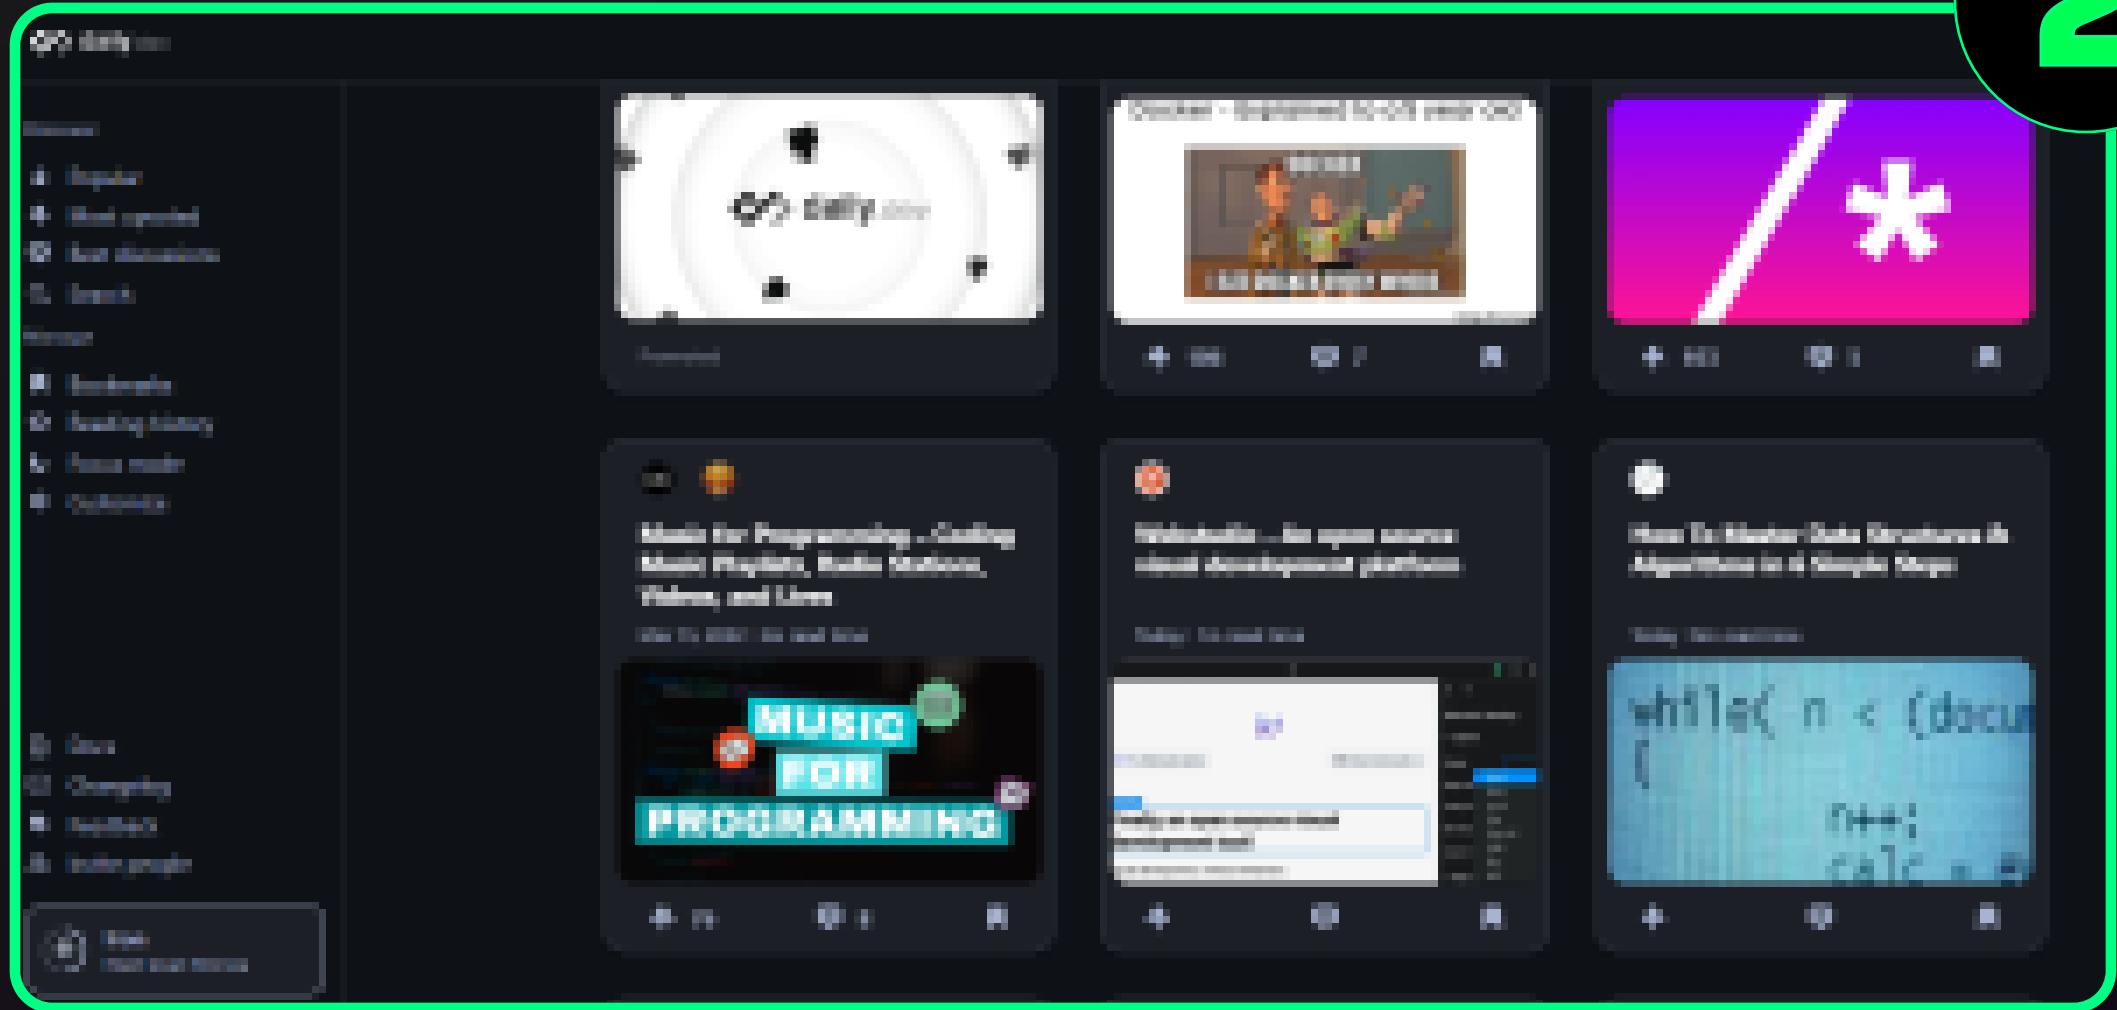

@singhkunal2050

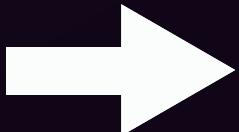

Kunal Singh | Web Dev
www.singhkunal2050.dev

2

daily.dev

daily.dev is the fastest growing online community for developers to stay updated on the best developer news. Get all the content you love in one place collected from +400 sources.

@singhkunal2050

Kunal Singh | Web Dev
www.singhkunal2050.dev

3

Fake Filler

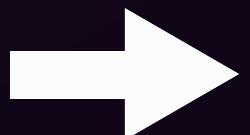

Offered by: fakefiller.com

A form filler that fills all inputs on a page with fake/dummy data.

★★★★★ 696 Developer Tools

Fake Filler

A form filler that fills all inputs on a page with fake/dummy data.

@singhkunal2050

Kunal Singh | Web Dev
www.singhkunal2050.dev

4

JSON Formatter

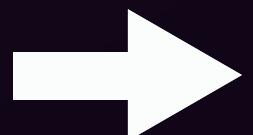

Offered by: Nik Rolls

Makes JSON easy to read. Open source.

★★★★★ 54 Developer Tools

JSON Formatter

Makes JSON easy to read.
Open source.

@singhkunal2050

Kunal Singh | Web Dev
www.singhkunal2050.dev

5

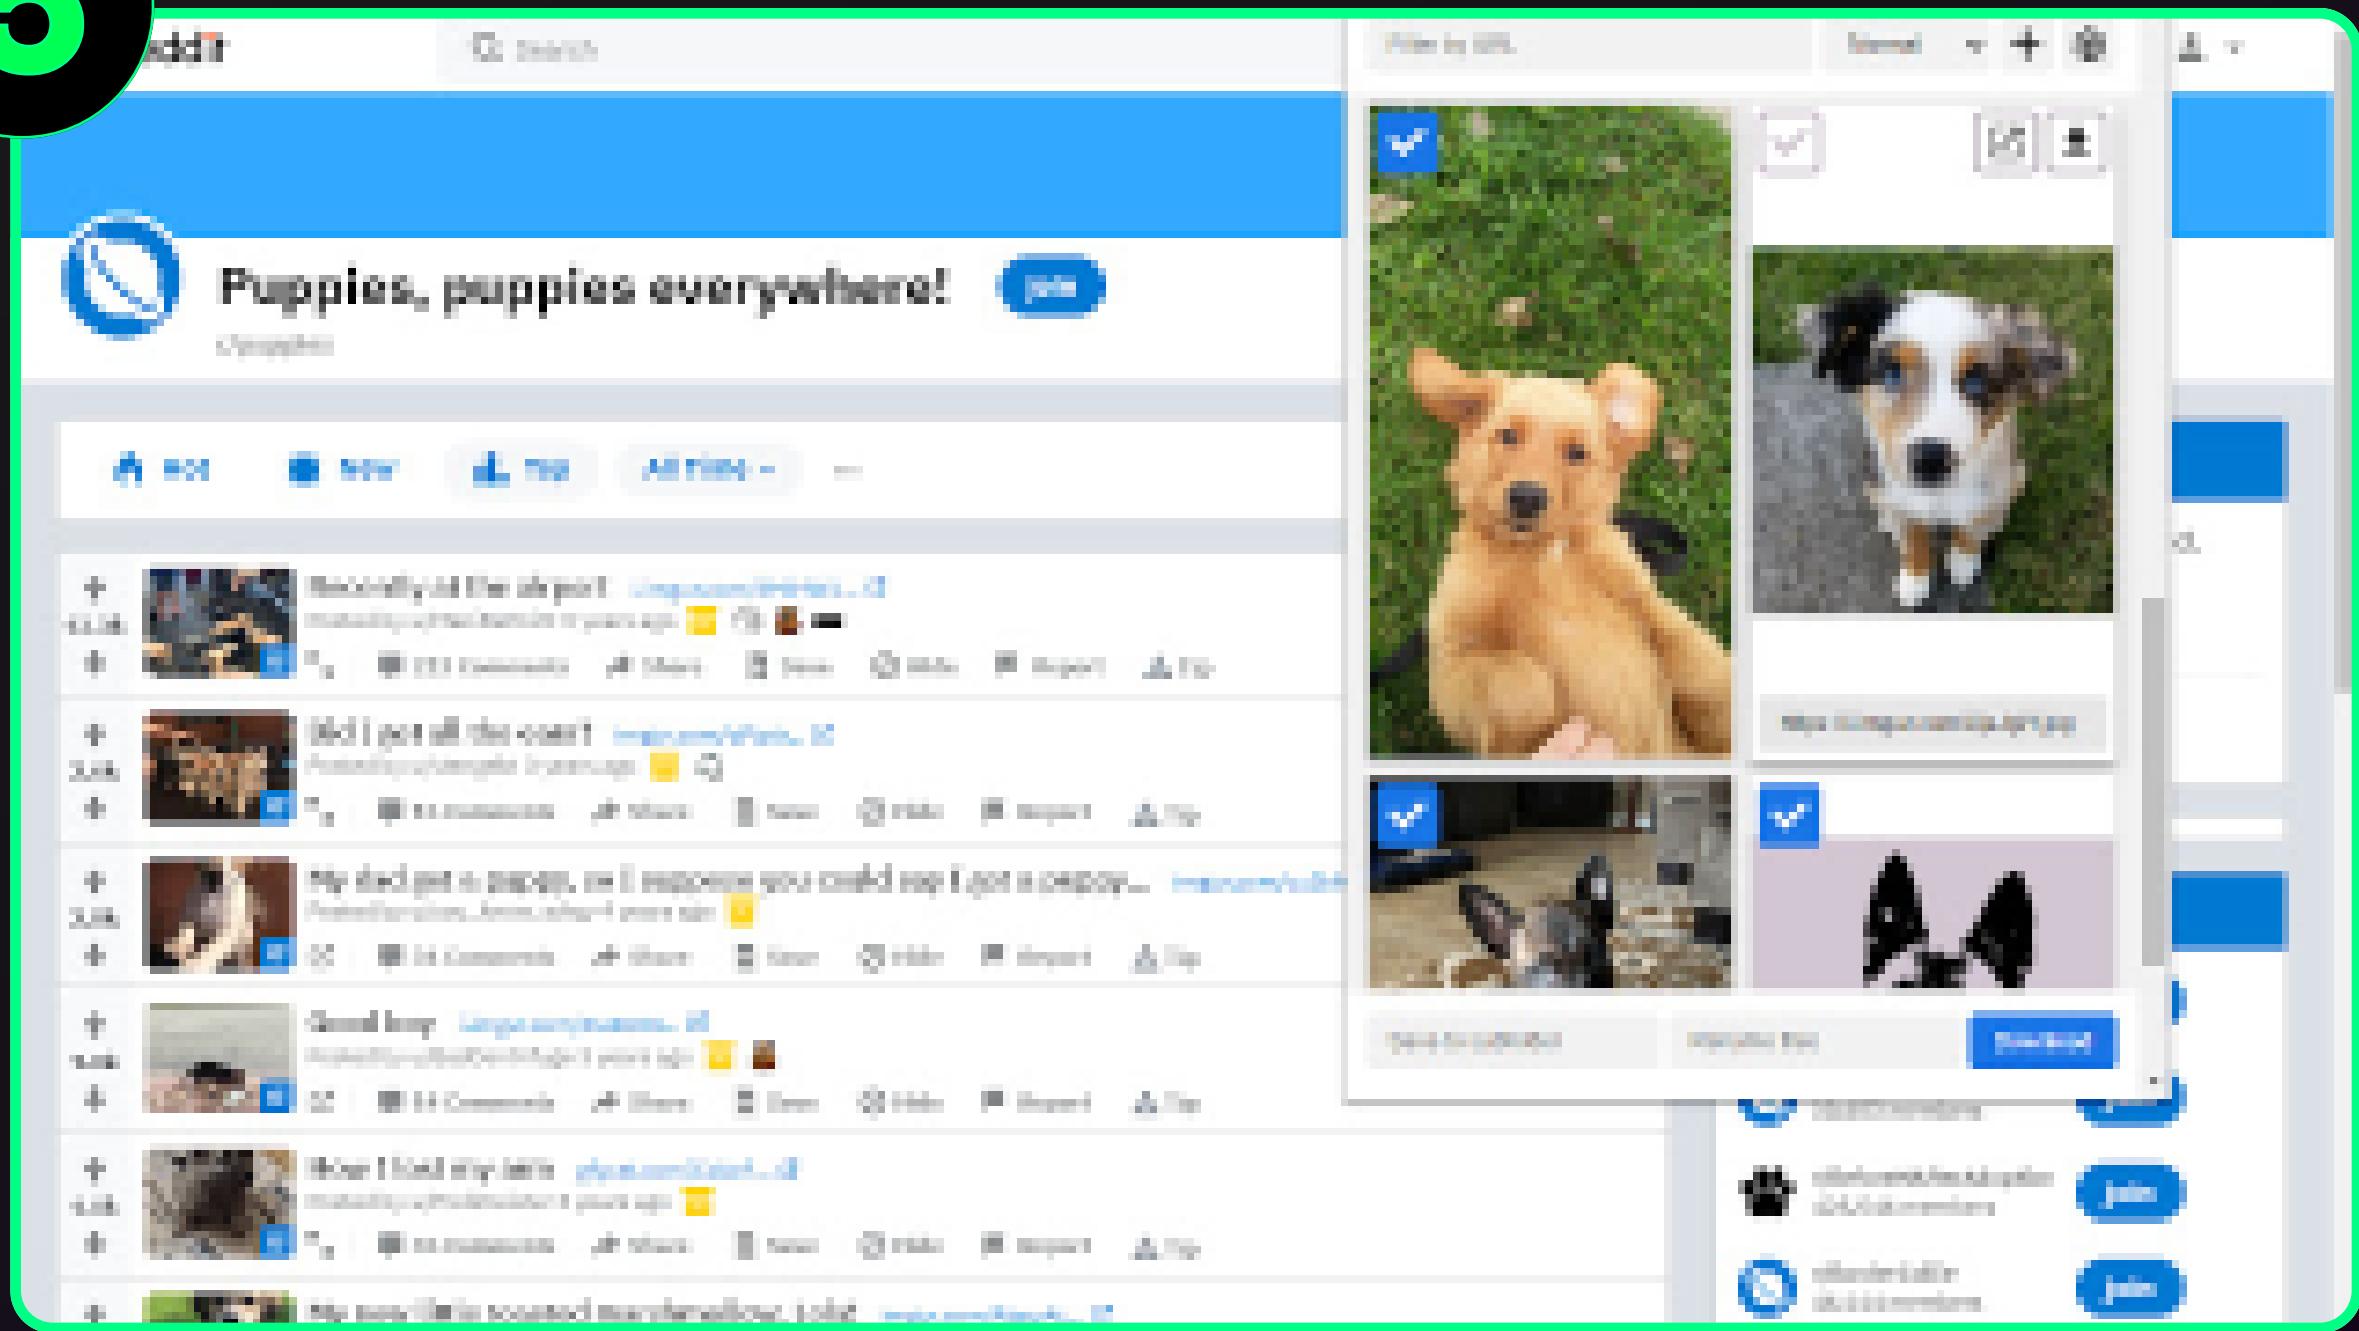

Image Downloader

Browse and download images on the web

@singhkunal2050

Kunal Singh | Web Dev
www.singhkunal2050.dev

Comment Down Your Favourite Chrome
Extensions in the Comments

@singhkunal2050

Kunal Singh | Web Dev
www.singhkunal2050.dev